Sir,

Our large balance, employed in interofficial weighings, and consequently influencing the Dr & Cr. of all our accounts, does not weigh with satisfactory accuracy, and necessarily makes me anxious for my accounts. Our balance adjuster, I fear, has not the requisite tools and arrangements for determining the correctness of the balance, and I respectfully suggest, as the best and quickest remedy, to ask M^r Froemmer to undertake the examination, and to provide the remedy.

Respectfully yours
